Free Music on Wheels.
Last evening as one of the yellow orchestras of the Citizens' Street Car Company came gliding down Water street, the lively music of a festive hand-organ was sent out right and left from the front of the car, and people along the street stopped, looked at the novelty and smiled and talked of the innovation as a neat stroke of enterprise. Mr. Kinney, the secretary, was aboard. He took on and let off passengers in a business way, receiving the showers of thanks for the free music in a matter of fact manner. The organ was kept on the car until 10:30 last night, and it is said people along the route remained up until the last trip to hear the harmony of sounds ground out industriously by the Italian from Cork. We shall not be surprised if a brass band is found perched upon one of the cars some fine evening.

Sent Back to Jail.
John Hockinberry was brought before Justice Curtis this forenoon to answer to a charge of burglary and larceny committed on Tuesday, July 10th. It was charged that John entered John H. Brynton's stable near Shellabarger & Co.'s mill, and stole therefrom the following articles: A shovel valued at $1.25, a spade worth $1.25, and a fork worth $1.75; total, $4.25. John confessed that he was guilty of the offenses charged, and volunteered the statement that he sold the articles stolen to a man residing near the fair grounds for 50 cents. Justice Curtis placed John under $500 bonds for his appearance at the December term of court, and in default of bail he was returned to the custody of Sheriff Foster.

"John R. Duffin."
This somewhat distinguished state guest, sometimes called Hamlet Shakespeare Felton, who went to the Chester penitentiary from Belleville, on being convicted on a charge of obtaining money from a bank in an irregular manner, has written a long letter about prison life, which was published in last week's issue of the Belleville Advocate. The article is given up largely to a philosophical dissertation on crime and criminals, which is sensible in the main. Duffin has his case before the Supreme Court and is hopeful of finally securing a new hearing.

A Plote.
To-day the members and friends of the Christian church Sabbath school are in possession of the E. R. Eldridge spring grove on West Decatur street. A bountiful dinner was served this noon, which I. O. Eymann pronounced the best he ever sampled. There are about 200 persons on the grounds.

West Prairie Street.
There are marked evidences of substantial improvements visible on West Prairie street. New residences have been erected by A. T. Hill, Holmes Cloyd, O. Z. Greene, Charles Battles and E. S. Roe, while improvements have been made by Mrs. Hostetter, Mr. Alexander, Judge Greer and others. Now Mr. Hill is having a handsome composition pavement put down in front of his property, and brick walls are going down on the north side of the street.

Prof. Wilkinson's Views.
At the meeting of School Principals of the state at Lake Bluff, near Chicago, on Tuesday, Prof. Wilkinson, of the Decatur High School, read an interesting paper, which was thus referred to by the Inter-Ocean of the 11th: "J. N. Wilkinson, of the Decatur High School, read a paper on 'What is demanded in the course of study for the two years following eighth-grade work.' Mr. Wilkinson thought there should be less rigidity in the prescribed course, and that in some cases the classics and mathematics should be dropped for the sake of the sciences."

Private Ice Cream Parlor.
The public will be gratified to learn that Mrs. Charles Marcott has opened very attractive ice cream parlors at her commodious home on the corner of East Wood and Franklin streets, one block from the court house. A reporter visited the parlors last evening and found them handsomely fitted up, the sweet fragrance of fresh flowers pervading the rooms. The house is surrounded by a beautiful lawn nicely shaded, and dotted with blooming plants. Altogether it is a very delightful retreat, and those out promenading or enjoying the evening breeze in vehicles, are invited to call at Mrs. Marcott's refreshment parlors and be served with delicious cream, berries and fine cakes. The parlors will be open every day and evening during the summer. Mrs. Marcott is also prepared to furnish grounds for the use of small parties who may wish to engage in croquet and other games.

This morning at 8 o'clock Frank Wells and Ben Shockley got astride their bicycles and rode to Harrison, a distance of eight miles. They made the trip leisurely in two hours. Wishing to get a hot dinner in Decatur they came home on the Wabash mail train at noon.

DEATH OF DR. LEFORGE.

A Promising Young Physician Gone Before—Sketch of His Life.

It is our duty to-day to chronicle the untimely death of Dr. W. L. Leforge, son of Jesse and Julia S. Leforge, which occurred last evening at 5:55 o'clock, at the residence of his parents corner of Union and Mason streets. His age was 23 years, 8 months and 13 days. Dr. Walker Leforge was born in Macon county, Illinois, November 28th, 1859, and resided in Decatur the greater part of his life. When about sixteen years of age he entered the office of the Drs. Chenoweth as a student, and applied himself with earnestness and zeal, taking particular interest in the study of physiology, in which he became proficient. Having studied that, four years, and attended three full courses of lectures, he graduated from the Rush Medical College, Chicago, with honors on the second day of February, 1881. After receiving his diploma he commenced practice at Hammond, Ill., remaining there about twelve months, and securing a fair share of patronage. About this time Dr. C. F. Demsey, having concluded to move to Peoria, left a splendid opening at Warrensburg, where, in company with Dr. McLean, he removed, and remained until about one month ago, at which time he came back to Decatur. He was married on May 29, 1883, to Miss Jessie Drake, of Warrensburg. On the day of his marriage he was stricken with paralysis, which caused his friends great uneasiness, but from this he recovered in a few days, and entered vigorously into a promising practice. He was again paralyzed on the fourth of July, from the effects of which he died.

The deceased was a young man who was the hope and pride of his fond parents. His future was full of bright promise for a successful professional career in this community, where he was raised and where he was so well and favorably known. His untimely death is indeed a sad blow to his parents and relatives, to whom the sympathy of all our people is extended.

The funeral will occur this afternoon at four o'clock from the Christian Church.

Will Leave Macon.
We learn to-day that Mr. S. D. Moore has disposed of his residence property at Macon—a dwelling and six acres of land—to W. R. Whitaker for $3,000. He has sold his stock of lumber and yard to R. H. Woodcock, and also sold his interest in a stock of hardware to his former partner in the business, Mr. Beschle. It is Mr. Moore's intention to remove to Assumption with his family and there engage in the banking business with Ben Hight, of Macon. There is said to be a good opening at Assumption for a bank.

Three Boys Arrested.
Justice Curtis issued a warrant to-day for the arrest of three boys, Godfrey Stern, August Burns and Johnny "Unknown," who are charged with breaking into a Wabash freight car and stealing therefrom two boxes of medicines valued at $15. One box contained medicine for spavined horses and the other drugs. The boys were arrested to-day and placed in jail. They will have an examination before Curtis to-morrow.

Judge Davis's Visit.
The fact that Hon. David Davis, of Bloomington, ex-vice-president of the United States, visited Decatur on Tuesday was duly noted in the REPUBLICAN of that day. He came down in company with Hon. C. H. Moore, of Clinton, who attends to the renting of his land in this section. Judge Davis and Mr. Moore entered a carriage in waiting for them at the Union depot, and were driven four miles west of Decatur, where the Judge looked over his farm of 160 acres, which is leased by Jacob Troutman. The Judge made a close inspection of the place, ordered eight and four inch laid, and even went down into the cellar of the house, making the stairs shake as he descended, to inspect the neatly arranged cooling room. A splendid country dinner was provided for the distinguished gentleman and his agent, and he ate heartily of the bountiful repast which had been hastily but carefully served by Mrs. Troutman, whose skill in the culinary art was praised in fitting words by the Judge. Mr. Davis was satisfied that his farm is being worked for all it is worth by Mr. Troutman, and he took occasion to compliment him highly on his industry and good management. Mr. Troutman has about 400 acres under cultivation, including the Davis land. The Judge arrived at the depot in time to take the afternoon train for Bloomington.

Burn Your Stubble.
The state entomologist reports that vast numbers of the Hessian fly are now in the dormant condition, so low down on the stalk that they are left behind in the stubble when the wheat is cut. This is true of the entire winter wheat region of Illinois. He therefore urgently advises that stubble be burned at the earliest day possible, or that, where this is impracticable, the infected fields be plowed deeply and rolled. This is good advice and should be followed.

MA. DIK ROBERTS is engaged in moving the E. McCallen dwelling on West Wood street, at present occupied by C. H. Bachrach and family. The dwelling will be moved but a short distance to make room for the modern addition about to be built. Mr. McCallen will make the residence one of the handsomest in the city.

TWO MORE Excursions to Clear Lake.
The Illinois Central Railroad will run two more excursions to Clear Lake. One to the Temperance Jubilee, leaving Decatur at 8:42 p. m., Thursday, July 19th. The other to the Sunday School Assembly, Wednesday, July 25. Fare for the round trip only $10.00. Return tickets good for 60 days. Sleeping cars will run through from Decatur to the Lake without change, price for double berth, $2.00. Application for same should be made to the undersigned at Manchester, Iowa, at least four days before date of excursion. The "Jubilee" and "Assembly" are the two most prominent and most interesting meetings of the season at Clear Lake. The fishing, boating and bathing are excellent, the living expenses exceedingly light, and to all who can spare a few days from home or business cares, we say go on one of the above excursions to Clear Lake.

That Medal.
The third challenge drill for the $25 Buxnam gold medal came off at Guards' Armory last evening. The contestants were Sergeants Swearingen, Boyd and Morthland. The tie between Swearingen and Morthland was won by the former, and the prize was awarded to Sergeant Swearingen, who has captured it twice, and if he wins it again it will be his personal property. The sergeants will be well up in Upton's tactics by the time that badge is finally disposed of. It is now in order to put up a prize for the corporals and privates, and why not resort to some scheme to exercise the officers of the two companies?

This forenoon the time of Justice Lowry was taken up in hearing a trial growing out of a quarrel between several children. The complainant was Alfred Bailey, who had three of Benj. Bristol's children arrested for an assault on Laura Clegborn, a small white girl, and also for creating a disturbance. The offenses charged were committed yesterday. The city was represented by A. H. Mills and the three children by David Hentelinson. After hearing much testimony the Justice concluded that it would be better to cut the case in two, and he dismissed the defendants, much to the satisfaction of Mr. Bristol, who was a close and patient listener.
